

LNG Central > LNGNews

Did you know ... Knowledge Burst

Q: What does the Knowledge Burst in our logo stand for?

A: According to a company press release "the LexisNexis icon, called the "knowledge burst," symbolizes the global markets the business serves. LexisNexis customers have described the icon and red color scheme as "global, modern, confident, energetic and bold."

Do you have a question about the company's history? A company acronym you don't understand? Or a piece of trivia that you would love to know the correct answer on? (We'll also take answers - we're very willing to be educated by those who've been at the company for a while). Please send us your questions, trivia, or historical facts about LexisNexis and we'll share the information in future articles.

Internal Communications
1/25/2008

1/25/2008